Self Marketing & Success Mindset Coaching

The Exposure Drama School aims to empower all its students to become successful leading actors in the industry.

With thousands of actors leaving other drama schools and university drama courses year after year and getting nowhere, it's easy to assume the odds are against you. But that's just a limiting belief.

With success 'mindset coaching' from one of the UK's leading Transformational Coaches, we'll teach you how to be successful not only in your acting career but also every other area of your life.

Exposure will provide all students with a Marketing Action Plan, giving you a plan of attack so you can confidently know how to market yourself to the industry and make your career happen.

All our students will graduate from our one year training programme fully equipped to effectively promote their acting talents to the world.

OUR MISSION

Our aim is to make quality screen acting drama training and exposure accessible to people truly committed to achieving a successful screen acting career.

At a time when drama training in the UK is reaching crisis point - being extremely expensive and offering entry to the chosen few - the Exposure Drama School offers a pioneering 21st century approach to drama training, utilising the latest digital technologies and emerging Web TV broadcast platforms to provide students with intensive drama training, an immersive filming experience, and significant Web TV exposure to launch their careers.

It's no longer enough to have a good headshot to launch an acting career. Today's actors need relevant screen acting training, a quality showreel, and significant exposure for casting agents and directors to identify you as a quality product.
